HELEN OF TROY

(r e v i s e d)

Queen Helen, King Menelaos and that pretty Prince Paris all have axes to grind and schemes to hatch in this witty, timely and poignantly anti-war version of the ancient myth.

Written by Wolfgang Hildesheimer.

Translated and directed by David Fenerty. Featuring Heidi Hooker, Hal Schneider, Tadamori Yagi and Janelle Carta.

Shows Fridays and Saturdays, January 23 through February 21, 2004 (And one special Thursday show-February 19). All performances are at 8 p.m. at the Live Oak Theatre; 1301 Shattuck Ave in Berkeley. (For directions go here.) Tickets $10 (Discounts for groups of 15 or more)
