

SPRING STAGED READING SERIES

Sea of Tranquility

By Howard Korder

A Staged Reading, Directed by Bruce Coughran

Tuesday - April. 26th, 2011 8 p.m.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

Ben and Nessa sell the house in Connecticut to make a new start in New Mexico. But soon their new life is over-run by house guests that won't leave, runaway teens, upset Native Americans, and echoes from a past that just won't go away.

Bruce Coughran (Director): Originally from Southern California, Bruce has been directing and assistant directing up and down the West Coast. His first production for Actors Ensemble was Jean Anouilh's Antigone in 2010. Previous to that he directed the world premiere of Bad Connection? at West Valley Theatre in Saratoga, and several staged readings for Subterranean Shakespeare Theatre Company. He has also been an assistant director at the Old Globe in San Diego, La Jolla Playhouse, the Kirk Douglas Theatre, ACT in San Francisco, and the Berkeley Opera. Make sure to catch his new adaptation of Falstaff and Hal, the next full production of Subterranean Shakespeare, with a preview staged reading on May 2nd.
